LIFESTYLE

Alberta has a diverse arts and culture community, and numerous community and ethnic organizations that provide festivals, events and attractions for Albertans and out-of-province visitors. Calgary and Edmonton, Alberta's two major cities, have vigorous live theatre and visual arts scenes, as well as symphony, opera and ballet.

Throughout the province, community-led festivals bring music, dance, film, literature, theatre and the visual arts to Albertans of all ages. In 2007, over 27,000 arts events took place in the province, including 64 community-based arts festivals, performances by 10 major performing arts companies (opera, ballet, symphonies and theatre companies) and 130 community performing arts organizations. Total attendance at arts events reached 11 million spectators.

Alberta is home to five of Canada's 14 United Nations World Heritage Sites, areas designated by UNESCO as offering exceptional universal value to humanity.

INNOVATION

Alberta has undertaken a nine-step Action Plan that will provide a supportive environment for companies to grow and become successful in world markets.

Effective January 1, 2009, Alberta's provincial SR & ED tax credit will be worth 10 per cent of a company's eligible expenditures up to $4 million.

The Government of Alberta has also established the $100 million Alberta Enterprise Corporation to attract and strengthen venture capital investments in Alberta. This corporation will invest in a range of venture funds, which in turn will invest in promising companies. In addition to these actions, the government is implementing a number of coordinated initiatives to help build technology companies and products in Alberta.

COMPETITIVE TAX ENVIRONMENT

The Alberta government's low-tax and fiscal responsibility policies create long-term economic benefits for Albertans. Alberta's international competitiveness and fiscal stewardship form a solid foundation upon which the Government of Alberta's value-added strategy will accelerate the on-going diversification of the province's economy.

With recent tax changes, Alberta has one of the most competitive business tax environments in North America. The Government of Alberta reduced its general corporate income tax rate to 10% in 2006. The combined federal/provincial corporate income tax rate is 29.5% in 2008. The Government of Canada is also reducing the general corporate income tax rate from 19.5% in 2008 to 15% in 2012. The new income tax rates combined with the fact that Alberta has no provincial capital taxes, no payroll taxes, no sales tax, and has a publicly funded health care insurance system makes Alberta's tax environment very competitive.
